NYA Project Positions Open

Widening of eligibility qualifications was revealed today to have made National Youth Administration part-time jobs available to young people, both men and women, between 18 and 25.

To be eligible, persons must be unemployed, a resident of San Mateo County for at least a year, not in attendance at full-time school, and a member of a family on relief or with relief level income, or having no family or having family living elsewhere.

Each person works 40 hours a month. Earnings average about $19.

Information may be secured at the NYA office at 430 Peninsula Ave., San Mateo, telephone San Mateo 5466.

Different NYA work project units are located in various schools, in the state employment service office at San Mateo, in the county planning commission, county welfare office and Community Hospital. The employment varies in nature and encompasses library assistance, office work, mechanical drawing or drafting, and similar work. Efforts are made to place those on NYA projects in private employment as they become competent. Co-operation of business men and employers is solicited.

Medical graduates in the United States in 1936-37 numbered 5377, of whom 238 were women.

THIS JUNGLE CHAP COMES AVISITING WITH CIRCUS

The Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus coming to Palo Alto, Tuesday, Apr. 26, brings with it among its 1000 new wonders, an extraordinary large group of ferocious jungle bred beasts. Each performance, they are put through their paces by Mabel Stark, world's only lion and tiger trainer. Above you get an idea of the greeting Mabel gets. This tough lad wears this expression whenever anyone comes near him. Working it's even worse.

County Bureau Budgets Asked

Using a new standardized procedure, County Executive E. A. Rolison has requested all departments to submit budgets for maintenance and capital outlay expenditures for fiscal 1938-39 not later than May 16.

He accompanied his request with a strong appeal for economy.

"In anticipating your requirements for the next fiscal year," Rolison's letter said, "it is hoped that you will give due consideration to the present economic status and confine your requests to the minimum expenditure consistent with good business practice in an endeavor to lighten the taxpayers' burden to the fullest extent possible."

Standard forms will be supplied to each department, Rolison said, showing the budget set-up for each item last year and the amount expended this year to Apr. 1. The data will be prepared by the service department using the Hollerith bookkeeping machine, he said.

The forms will replace the haphazard system heretofore used, the executive declared, and will lessen the work in the controller's office and at the same time provide for a more uniform method of presenting requirements.

WARM WEATHER GREET'S EARLY ARRIVALS AT EMERALD LAKE

The bright dawn of the balmy day of the year found nearly 2000 persons worshipping the risen Christ at Easter Sunrise Services in Emerald Lake Bowl Sunday morning.

Although the crowd was not quite as large as it had been at the last few Easter services, many people apparently having stayed away because of the cool, threatening weather of the previous days, those who attended enjoyed one of the most beautiful spectacles ever seen from the bowl as the golden sun emerged over the East Bay hills just as the audience finished singing the first hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross."

Trumpeters had previously heralded the exact scheduled hour of sunrise—5:33 a.m.—following the playing of a special arrangement of "The Old Rugged Cross" by the Redwood City Municipal Band, directed by Dr. R. Lee Otis.

MANY COME LATE
Throughout the services, which lasted just 28 minutes, people kept coming—485 automobiles full in all, according to the Redwood City Police Department's count. From all sections of the Peninsula did the worshippers come to praise the Son of God, and hear Rev. J. Douglas Ewan of Burlingame tell of "The Challenge of Easter," which he described as "not that we live again, but simply this: Is my life going to be worth living again?"

"The challenge of Easter is taking our lives, and making them Christlike; of living not only those years worthy of living here, but those years of time in the eternity to come," the pastor declared. "May we challenge ourselves on this day, to live at our best so we will know through Jesus that our lives are worth while continuing on. For He is not here, He is risen from the dead!"

Rev. C. E. Ward of Redwood City had opened the services with a prayer; Rev. Alden A. Read of San Carlos pronounced the benediction. The band accompanied both the first hymn and the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," with Thomas W. Badley leading and presiding at the rites.

Mrs. Ella Chase Ordered To Tell Of Mystery Rites

The sensational Chase divorce case, now pending in Judge A. R. Cotton's court, may come to a head Apr. 27, it was learned here when a subpoena was served at her Loma Park home on Mrs. Ella A. Chase, onetime candidate for supervisor and assemblyman.

The subpoena, signed by Judge Maxwell McNutt, requires her appearance in Judge E. I. McAuliffe's court to produce records and to give testimony in connection with her suit for divorce from Bellman M. Chase of San Francisco.

Mrs. Chase filed complaint for divorce Dec. 2. Chase answered with a startling cross-complaint Feb. 15 in which he denied he had ever married Mrs. Chase.

Teacher Trip Over County Due Saturday

Two hundred teachers of San Mateo County will spend this Saturday making an automobile trip to historic and scenic spots on the Peninsula, under the general guidance of several San Mateo Junior College instructors. Starting the trip at the Mills' estate in Millbrae, site of the old Buri Buri rancho, the group will visit the lake area, the coastline, and the Ralston home in Belmont.

Along the way speakers will tell of the history of the spots visited, the rock formations, and the plant life of the Peninsula. A barbecue lunch will be served on one of the beaches.

Meeting Called On Coyote Point Playground Plan

Fate of the proposed Coyote Point recreation project will be decided at 6:30 p.m. Monday at a joint meeting in San Mateo of the members of the city councils of San Mateo, Burlingame, and Hillsborough, the county planning commission and board of supervisors.

At that meeting, according to plans decided on by the planning commissioners late Monday, an effort will be made to set up a city-county recreation district to purchase and develop the proposed area.

The county has been asked to purchase the Howard property, comprising Peninsula Beach proper, the skating rink, beach, and tide lots. Burlingame will be asked to purchase the Bowie property at the head of the point, and San Mateo will contribute the present municipal golf course, according to provisional plans.

The planning commission Monday adopted a 20-foot setback line on Bayshore Hwy. between Redwood City and San Mateo. Purpose of the setback, according to Adviser Ronald Campbell, is to promote safety by providing space for off-street parking in front of commercial establishments on the highway.

Application of Mrs. A. Mangini for a zoning change to permit erection of a restaurant and bar at Portola Picnic Park was approved and referred to the board of supervisors.

Map of Garden Village subdivision, owned by Herbert Fleishacker, was approved. The first unit comprise 25 lots in a select area adjacent to the Merced Golf and Country Club on Junipero Serra Blvd. west of Colma. Homes are to be restricted to $7000 or more.

The commission instituted proceedings to change zoning of a lot in Dumbarton Oaks to permit erection of a lumber yard.

The map of Skyline Hills subdivision west of Burlingame Hills was not considered, pending assurances from the subdividers that proper arrangements will be made for sanitary facilities.

FAMOUS RIDERS COMING

For unequalled feats of horsemanship, the world famous Rieffensch Troupe stands alone. For many years they were Europe's riding sensation. They are making their American debut with the Tuesday, Apr. 26, at grounds on Embarcadero Rd., opposite the high school. While renowned, the Rieffenschs are but one of the 1000 new wonders being offered by the big show this year.

School Meeting Set; Pay Boosts Protested

MENLO PARK, Apr. 19—Representatives of all Southern San Mateo County residential areas will be invited to discuss next week the possibility of obtaining a branch high school building for the district, Chairman E. M. Rankin of the Menlo Park Taxpayers' League announced today.

He said the league has arranged a meeting to be held Wednesday, Apr. 27, in the Menlo Park City Hall.

Spreckels Offers Estate for Taxes

Rudolph Spreckels of Hillsborough, one time outstanding reform leader in San Francisco, disclosed Monday that he is willing to give up all he has in the world to settle a $648,000 income tax suit filed against him by the government.

Included in the properties Spreckels has offered to sacrifice are ranch lands in Tulare County, oil lands in the Kettleman Hills district, water rights in the Pit River country, and holdings in Tanforan race track.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

The trustees chosen at the Menlo Park city election last week were sworn in Monday. The only new member of the board is Capt. Hugo May, J. E. Cooper and Henry Carroll being re-elected. Mayor Cooper was re-appointed mayor for another term. Carroll, who received the highest vote at the election, was nominated for mayor but declined in favor of Cooper. It is believed there will be no changes in the personnel of the city government.

Joseph A. Donohoe was re-elected mayor of Atherton last Monday. Mayor Donohoe has made an efficient and popular mayor and his retention in office meets with approval of the citizens of Atherton.

A meeting of citizens will be held in the city hall next Wednesday to discuss the possibility of obtaining a branch high school in Menlo Park and all are invited to attend. Many citizens believe such a school should be established here.

Rev. Father Corbett, a member of the faculty of Santa Clara University, is acting assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity during absence of Father Maurice O'Brien, who is visiting his mother in Ireland.

Charles Durkee, 34, who suffered fatal injuries in an automobile accident last Saturday, was buried Monday from Palo Alto. The deceased resided with his family at 618 Creek Dr. and was liked by all who knew him. The Durkees have lived here for some time. Capt. J. H. Hall, 64, U. S. Army, retired, passed away last Monday at his home on Valparaiso Ave. after a brief illness. Captain Hall was well-known in Menlo Park.

The Native Daughters will sponsor a whist party in the Central School Hall on May 4. Valuable prizes will be offered for the best scores.

'Show Cause' Orders Issued

More impetus to Redwood City's current "Clean Up During 1938" campaign came from the city council Monday when it directed owners of three parcels of property to appear in a fortnight to show cause why the buildings thereon should not be condemned and destroyed.

One is a "dilapidated and insanitary" 3-room house at 235 Hillview Ave., built before the present ordinance was passed and in such condition that it "could not be repaired or added to under present conditions," Bldg. Insptr. I. C. Drathman informed the council in recommending its destruction.

Another is a shack on Fulton Street, which James Gorman, nearby resident, charged was a fire hazard and a breeding place for rats.

The third is the oft-discussed barn on Stambaugh St. On motion of Councilman Jones, second of Councilman Hohn, it was decided to give owners an opportunity to appear next meeting to show cause, if there be any, why the buildings should not be razed.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other unanimous city council action:

Granted 60-day extension from May 1 to Grant & Hoffman, contractors, in their work of paving Hillview Ave.

Granted Al Kendrick and A. W. Loder permission to erect an ice-distributing station at the service station at El Camino Real and Hopkins Ave.

Granted the chamber of commerce request that $100 be given the California Mission Trails Assn. for publicity purposes.

Directed City Attorney Mansfield to prepare papers necessary to purchase 10 acres of harbor lands from the Coast & Valley Warehouse Co., paying $2500 in cash, setting up $7500 in the new year's budget, and agreeing to pay the other $5000 in August, 1939. The action was taken on recommendation of a committee composed of councilman McCarthy, Port Commissioner Beeger and Attorney Mansfield.

Voted to grant restaurant licenses to Martin Wynne, 2321 El Camino Real, and Alexander Beltramo, 2345 Middlefield Rd.

Book Orders Due For Contest Winners

Toastmasters made final plans Monday for next week's Sequoia High School oratorical contest to be staged in place of the regular speeches at the weekly meeting in the First Methodist Church Social Hall.

It was decided that instead of presenting winners with books, they would be given merchandise orders to the value of $3 for first prize, $2 for second.

Cuthbert Currie will be chairman.

Japan hopes to obtain American and British capital to help her develop the newly conquered areas in China, Japanese economists and officials say.

$25 Fine Is Levied On Speedy Autoist

Robert R. Caraway, 34, San Francisco machine shop foreman, Monday paid a $25 fine in Judge Edward I. McAuliffe's court for speeding. He was arrested Apr. 3 by Sgt. V. C. Calhoun of the State Highway Patrol for speeding 75 miles an hour between Redwood City and East Palo Alto.

Fremont Simpson, Saratoga restaurant owner, paid $10 for speeding at 65 miles between the same points. He was arrested by Patrolman Chester Kreiss.

Ralph W. Marchus, San Francisco salesman, paid $5 for speeding 60 miles an hour from East Palo Alto to the county line.

Board Agrees 41 Billboards Enough in R. C.

Permits for Five New 'Advertising Panels' Here Are Denied

Like Redwood City's seven planning commissioners, Redwood City's seven city councilmen believe that 41 billboards are enough in this city.

This was made clear Monday night when, after hearing further arguments by Edward McGlade of the West Coast Advertising Co., which sought permits to erect five "advertising panels" here, the council voted unanimously not to grant the permits.

The action came despite assertion by McGlade that in his opinion City Ordinance 272 which gives the council right to refuse to allow more signs to be installed is illegal.

McGlade reasoned that a city had no right whatever to limit number of billboards in a city as long as they were constructed in a commercial or business zone and complied with city laws governing construction.

But City Atty. Albert Mansfield differed with McGlade.

"That's what the ordinance says," Mansfield answered queries regarding the provision giving councilmen the right to ban new billboards, "and I'll stand by it till the ordinance is upset in court."

McGlade's arguments, and insistence upon definite action rather than a shelving of his applications, carried a veiled threat of court suit to force Redwood City to allow him to install billboards here, but he declined either in the meeting or afterwards to commit himself on this point.

MENLO PARK PLANNERS DISAPPROVE BILLBOARDS

MENLO PARK, Apr. 19—At a session which saw public hearing on John Fracchia's petition for rezoning of the southeast corner of Santa Cruz Ave. and University Dr. continued for a week, resolutions were drawn by the planning commission against outdoor signboards and carnivals and recommending that the city council legislate them out of the community.

The West Virginia coal industry has paid $58,206,487 in workmen's compensation in the 24 years of the law's existence.

Ex-Convicts Win County Jail Terms

Although both were previous inmates of state prison, two men convicted on burglary charges in the superior court were sentenced only to the county jail Monday afternoon by Judge Maxwell McNutt.

Mitchell Tometich, with a prior San Quentin term against him, was sentenced to one year for burglarizing a San Mateo restaurant. His two companions, James Frazier and Alvin C. Kelly, were admitted to three years' probation on condition that they serve 90 days in the county jail, less credit for time already served.

Guy Arcara, with a record in both Folsom and San Quentin, both pleaded guilty to burglary of a Colma service station, was sentenced to nine months.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. DeMatteis argued that neither Arcara nor Tometich were fit subjects for county jail sentences.

De Patta Asks Permit Without Dog Racing

Frank A. DePatta, Redwood City real estate and insurance broker, has renewed his application to the board of supervisors for a permit to construct and operate an amusement park on the Winters property bordering Bayshore Hwy. east of San Carlos.

DePatta said there would be no dog racing at the recreation center. The application stated that the amusements to be offered would include boxing, wrestling, motorcycle and midget auto racing, and concerts. DePatta added that rodeos would be staged on the 12-acre parcel.

Local Bus Lines To Start by May 2

W. Vandervoort will have his Redwood City bus lines in operation May 2 rather than June 1 as previously announced, City Manager C. L. Dimmitt reported today. Schedules will be published soon. He added.

I, TOO, HAVE BEEN PARTLY LAID OFF

TWO LETTERS of INTEREST in REDWOOD CITY

1 DEAR JOHNS-MANVILLE REDWOOD CITY PLANT—

Why have you had to lay off some of your men and put others on a part time basis?

GEORGE CITIZEN

2 Dear George

Because, I, too, have been partly laid off.

Did you ever stop to realize that almost everybody in this world is working for somebody else?

I am a factory, but I am just a servant, and I am subject to the wishes and whims and needs of my boss—the customer.

Sometimes the customer fires me or partly fires me so suddenly, it takes my breath. "I don't want so much of your work for a while," the customer says all of a sudden.

This has nothing to do with the quality or popularity of the products which I make. They are just the same, or better, now than they were in boom times.

You see, customers can postpone buying my products. It isn't the same as if I were in the sock business or the food business.

When your socks wear out, you have to buy new ones. But you can postpone for months the fixing up of your house, and industry can be discouraged in the building of new plants—in both of which cases my products would be used. That's why it is so important to my operation that people have confidence in general business conditions. This confidence is necessary so that customers will not postpone buying things that are not absolute necessities. Just as soon as they do stop postponing their purchases I will start humming as merrily as ever.

When my customers get scared or lose confidence, and quit building houses and factories, they write or wire me the bad news.

The boys out in the field that sell my products are doing everything they can to make the customers quit postponing. My company's 850 salesmen are working harder than ever, beating the bushes for orders.

After all, I am merely a middle person between the public and my workers. I employ workers; the customer employs me; the customer has temporarily given us both a lay-off.

I have done my best to equalize work and wages over the year, but there are too many things beyond my control, with things as they are, for me to guess 100% as to my customers' needs and buying intentions.

One thing is certain: my managers are definitely trying to schedule production so work can be spread evenly throughout the year with all of my workers enjoying a reasonably steady annual wage with fewer and fewer lay-offs.

Lay-offs are costly to me. I hate them. Idle machinery eats up taxes and interest and insurance, and produces nothing. And depreciation goes on just the same.

I can only live if I make a profit and I can make a profit only by being busy.

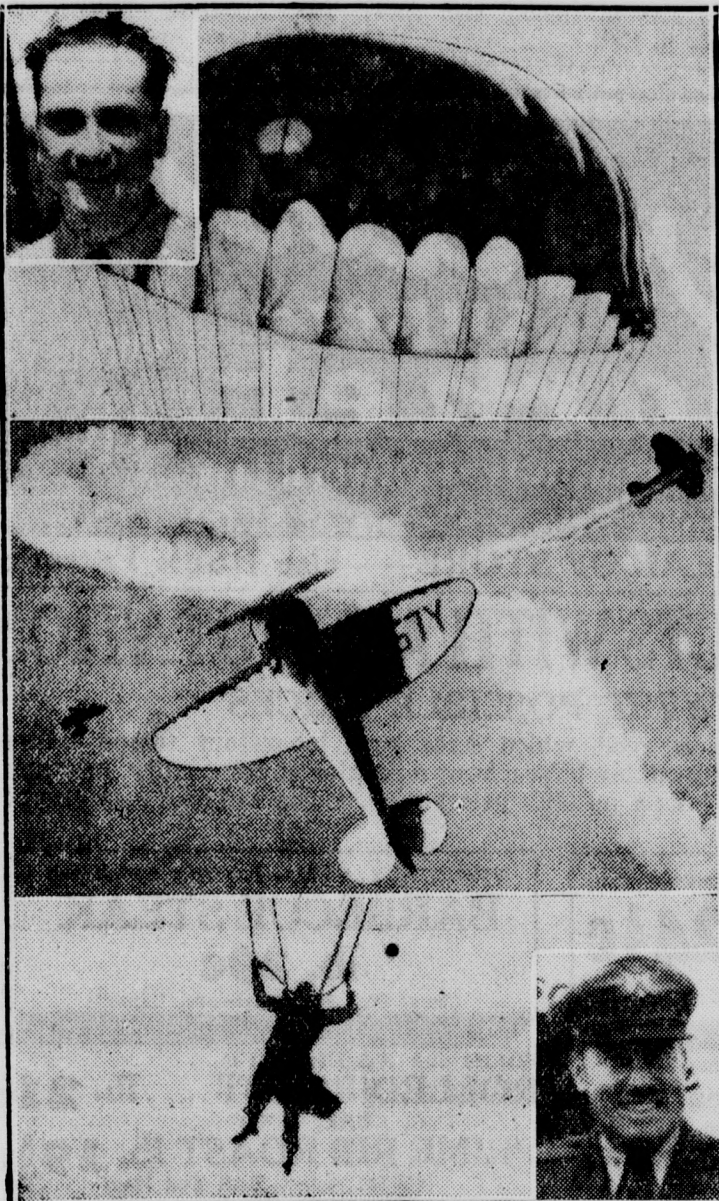

Of course, there is always a silver lining. And, although my boss, the customer, has partly laid me off at the present time, he has wants and needs which must be supplied eventually. History shows that he can regain his confidence just as quickly as he loses it. And the important thing is for all of us to do everything we possibly can to help him regain that confidence.

The customer is the one who says "No Work"

Six Officials Win Increases Of $100 Year

Other Bureau Heads Denied Salary Boosts

To six elective county officials who had asked salary increases totalling $6000, the board of supervisors Tuesday tossed a small bone—100 per annum each.

Public sentiment expressed at the hearing this morning appeared evenly divided on the question of increases. Two letters read by County Clerk W. H. Augustus protested salary boosts.

The new salary schedule, effective in January for a four-year period: Assessor, $4000; clerk, $3600; controller, $3600; coroner, $3600; executive, $6000; district attorney, $4500; recorder, $3600; sheriff, $4500; superintendent of schools, $3600; superior court judge (county's pro rata), $2000; supervisors, $1800; engineer, $4800; tax collector, $4000; justices of the peace, $2100; treasurer, $3600.

The increases are to the clerk, controller, coroner, recorder, school superintendent and treasurer. All had asked $700 annual raises except Coroner William F. Crosby, who had not requested an increase.

$8 MONTH INCREASE
Increases totaled only slightly more than $8 a month for each of the six officials in the $3500 bracket. They formerly held office under appointment but must face election this year.

Thayer B. Thomas, San Mateo, protested by letter against any increases.

The South San Mateo Improvement Association expressed its objections to increases because of the tax increase last year.

Representatives of the Peninsula League of Women Voters argued for adequate increases, especially for County School Supt. Pansy Jewett Abbott, to increase efficiency.

SUPPORT INCREASES
A. T. Smith, president of the Highlands District Improvement Club; Charles Meinert, representing the North Fair Oaks Improvement Club; and W. E. Pitschke, publisher of the Daily City Record, advocated salary increases to help business and to induce the highest caliber of men to seek public office.

The salary ordinance was passed unanimously on motion by Supervisor Alvin Hatch.
